Subject: Comment from a Dana Point resident regarding backyard chickens

Dear Gentlemen,

This is regarding allowing backyard chickens in Dana Point. I had bought a house in another area, not even considering that chickens could be kept in the backyard there. Chickens are noisy, smelly and a disruption. I would never have bought there had I known chickens were allowed in the backyard. In fact, I later did sell the house.

I ask you not to consider allowing barn yard creatures in the back yards in an such a delightful and urbane setting as the City of Dana Point. This is not the picture of Dana Point I would like others to see.

Thank you,
Linda Souza
